ANECDOTE OF RUBINI.—Thirty years ago there was among the chorus singers of the Theatre at Bergamo, Italy, a poor but very modest man, beloved by his colleagues, and who, to sustain his mother in a more effectual manner was at the same time tailor and chorister. One day came the celebrated singer Nozari to the tailor, to order a pair of pantaloons. asked, and was informed that he belonged to the chorus of the opera. "Have you a good voice?" asked Nozari. "Not particularly," answered the tailor, "I can hardly reach A."
"Let me hear," said Nozari, stepping to the piano. "Commence." The tailor commenced, and with difficulty reached G. "Now the A."

"I cannot, sir." "Sing the A, unfortunate fellow." Again a great effort, and A was reached. "Now the B flat!" cried Nozari. "I am not able." "I say B flat, or by my soul, I''-''Don't be angry; I will try.'' ''A B flat! Do you see that it is possible?'' exclaimed Nozari, triumphantly; "and I tell thee, my son, if you practice assiduously, you will be the first of APRIL, 1867, at the law office of Aylett tenor in Italy." Nozari was not mistaken. Nicol in the town of Brentsville, Prince Wil The poor chorister, who, in order to meet his daily wants, was obliged to mend old clothes, is now in possession of a fortune of two million francs; it is the celebrated Rubini.

OCCURRENCE AT A MENAGERIE.—In Guild ford, England, the other day, a fearful howling was heard in the tigers' compartment of Stevens's menagerie, which had entered the town on the previous day. Three of the keepers large male black bear had forced his way through the partition into the tigers' den.

This latter was occupied by three young Bengal tigers, and a fearful combat was raging, in which the bear appeared to be gaining the advantage. After vainly using every means to part the combatants and to induce the bear to retire into his own quarters, the keepers determined that the only way to prevent a fearful catastrophe was to destroy the bear. Accordingly two of them shot him dead, whilst they at the same time wounded two of the tigers

The preciousness of little things was never more beautifully expressed than in the following morceau by B. F. Taylor: Little fortunes bring the most content, and little hopes the least disappointment. Little words are the sweetest to hear.

Little charities fly farthest and stay longest on the wing. Little lakes are stillest, little hearts the fullest, and little farms the best tilled.

Little books are the most read, and little songs the most loved. When nature would make anything especially rare and beautiful she makes it little-little pearls, little diamonds, and little dews. Multum in parvo-much in little-is the great beauty of all we love best, hope for most, and remember the longest.

A GAS FIRE-LIGHTER.—An invention has been patented in England, under the name of interest, entitled, the gas fire-igniter, intended as a substitute for wood and paper in lighting fires. A row of three gas-burners is fitted on below and behind the grate bottom, with a tap at one side, so Personal Portraits, Sketches, Adventures and Incidents of the War, with Thrilling Narthat when a fire is wanted the gas is lit, and the flame passing amongst the coals sets fire to them without the aid of wood or paper. In summer, water can be boiled by the gas alone, as in an ordinary gas fire.
